GREG BARNES Investment Committee

Greg is a partner at Hyde Park Venture Partners, an early stage venture fund focused on software startups in the Mid-continent, and has been with the firm since 2014. Greg has led and manages a number of HPVP investments, including Hubdoc (acquired by Xero), Pear Deck (acquired by GoGuardian), Provi, and Frank, among others, and sourced their investments in ShipBob and VNDLY.

Prior to HPVP, Greg was the COO of Piece & Co., which provides sustainable employment to artisans and underserved populations around the globe, and spent six years as a Senior Director of New Ventures at Redbox, where he led the strategy team before leading new venture development and corporate venture investing. Previously, he also held analyst positions at Straightline, DiamondCluster International, and a senior role at Culligan International.

Greg is currently a Board Observer for BlackCart and Malomo, a Board Member for Kooltra, and an Advisory Board Member for RedHawk Ventures, a student-led venture capital fund at Miami University.

Greg graduated from Miami University in 2003 with a BS in finance.
